

"Here, Elsewhere" An Interactive Art Installation - Media Release -

Here, Elsewhere, a piece that explores the nature of movement. How often are we truly present, focussing only on what's in front of us?

- The Holden street Theatres, 34 Holden St, Hindmarsh, SA, 5007.
- Starting 12th until 24th February (except 18th).
- 6pm at the Sunken Garden.

The performance is mixing contemporary dance and video presenting by the dancer Claire Jeannot. She is a French dancer who studies in Montréal, Canada. Through her travels, she became interested about being present at the place and moment. For her, movement is one of keys to stay here, today, now.

Come along to Here, Elsewhere and open up your phone camera. You will look through the lens at Claire's movements - what is it you see? Share this and compare it with the other spectators around you. You'll likely find that everyone views the world a little differently.
